THE FINAL CONQUEST.

The glories of our birth and state
Are shadows, not substantial things;
There is no armor against fate;
No shield, no keel, no helmet and crown
May turn back down.

And in the dust be out mad;
With the poor crooked scythe and spade.

Some men with swords may reap the field,
And plant fresh laurels where they kill,
But their strong nerves at last must yield,
They tame but one another still.

Early—
They stoop to fate,

And must give up their murmuring breath,
When the pale captives creep to death.

HOOVER HILL, June 30th, 1879.

Editor Herald:

Our enterprising merchant, D. Rogers, of Buford, returned from a business trip to Louisville last Saturday. Week

He had been there seeing to the sales of his tobacco during the past week, also purchasing new goods. Messrs. King & Jewell, his partners in the line have been very extensively in the world this summer, generally paying very fair prices, and we are glad to note the market indicating favorably for them for the present.

If you will allow me I can convey my idea more fully by an individual illustration. I am a firm adherent to the cardinal principles of Republicanism, but I am no man-worshiper.

Now suppose that the publican is known to be a hypocrite, and the people are to be told that he would not be allowed to do his work, he would be compelled to act in accordance with his principles.

Solomon said, "There is a time for all things." Most of our mishaps and misfortunes originate from getting these times mixed and not used in their proper places. Thus the mechanic gets his time that properly belongs to his shop mixed with his time as a farmer, and the farmer gets his time as a mechanic.

It is a remarkable fact that the great and most literary productions have been produced at the first dawning of learning in any country. Homer, Esop, Ossian, Shakespeare and Spencer are striking examples of this fact. Is it that the thrilling and undoubting belief in the truth of our principles, which I think is the cause of our National success, is the cause of our success?

Instead of growing angry and resenting the reviving of ancient wrongs, we should consider ourselves complimented at not being of their sort.

"One man when he sees satire thinks it is a penance."</

for Legislative honors, viz: Burdine Beauchamp (nominee of the Democratic party); Wm. Wortham (Greenbacker); Mr. Rice (Independent Democrat).
The Democrats ought to dance up and vote for their regular nominee, Burdine Beauchamp, and elect him.WE wonder how Dr. J. W. Meador proposes to revise the Common School laws so as to reduce the expense of the system? And we further wonder why the necessity for a curtailment of expenses in that bureau has not suggested itself to the Doctor's mind during the two sessions which he has served in the Kentucky Legislature.

CANDIDATES Mutterings.

The candidates all had their say at the Court House Monday, but it is utterly impossible for us to give even a synopsis of what was said. Mr. J. A. Bennett, Greenbacker, led off, and, among other things, said the greenbacks, now in circulation, were not redeemable, that there was no date or time fixed upon which to pay them. At the conclusion of his speech, Prof.
W. B. Hayward replied and insisted that a promise to pay carried with it the force of payment on demand unless the payment was specified to be made at some time in the future. He read on a greenback bill, "The United States will pay to bearer" and said that promise, unless repudiated, was good for payment on demand, and that he for one was no repudiationist.Mr. Hocker followed, and in a very plain, straightforward speech of about forty minutes, in which he spoke of the issues of the day, the duties of the hour, what he had favored in the past and what he would favor if elected again.Dr. J. W. Meador followed and did some neat dodging as is usually seen.
He made, under the circumstances, as good a presentation of his claims as possibly could have been made. They spoke to day at Beda.HON. C. L. Wedding, of Rockport Indiana, at Sulpher Springs.L. C. Wedding, a renegade from the 5th, hurt somebody. Go ahead, Mr. News, if you think you can make any capital out of your "slurs and flings" at Mr. Wedding. A brief notice of his speech will be found in another column.The statement that "L. C. Wedding, of Rockport, Ky., yelled, &c.," is about as near as the News can come to telling or printing the truth. In fact the type in that office has been used to set up so "busters" that they have become so confused they will not tell the truth.

Anybody that knows anything at all about it knows that his name is C. L.
Wedding and he lives in Rockport, Ind.In the HERALD of May the 16th, 1877, the following notice was inserted:"While I am engaged in the Legislative canvass the editorial column of the HERALD will be under the management and control of Mr. A. H. Cummins, and L. B. Will will attend to the business of the office."

JOHN P. BARRETT.

Having written the editorial himself, it was easy for Cummins to remember it, and his attempt to use it in the way he has, is in keeping with his way of doing things.

Dr. J. W. MEADOR insists every time that he is a candidate, that he favors the saving of the people's money, is in favor of cutting down expenses, etc., etc., but, when elected, he takes care never to do anything in that line. During his first term, which was 1873-4, while the country was laboring under a financial panic, the like of which was never known before, a bill was introduced to establish a Court of Common Pleas in Fayette and other counties.
The bill, as offered, fixed the Judge's salary at $3,000. Mr. Finn offered an amendment fixing it at $2,000 and Dr.
J. W. Meador voted against this amendment.
His vote in this matter is of record in Journal proceedings of January, 1874. Why did he do it?

Editor Herald:

The HERALD says, "The Doctor J. W. Meador was a complete politician, even for some years after the war, and espoused the Republican cause when he saw a chance for official preferment." Now was not Bro. Barrett, at the beginning of the war, a strong Union man? And when we tried to hold, with the House Guards, did not all in his power to drive the rebels from our land, but joined the rebel host for political preferment at the close of the war.—[L. T. Cox in News.]

Mr. Cox's logic to convince the public that Dr. Meador was not a political nondescript is laughable. We were on the Union side and are yet a Union man, never favoring secession for a moment—went once with a lot of armed citizens in pursuit of a lot of thieving guerrillas, but does that prove that Dr.
Meador was not a political nondescript or does it justify his being one. At the close of the war according to the terms of surrender there were no rebel hosts to them, all gave all on terms presented them by the Federal army.

MEADOR might appropriately be styled the great Absente.

REMEMBER.

The Republican managers are making a great effort to impress the Federal soldiers, that they are their true, faithful, sincere friends, and that the Democratic party is hostile to them. Of course this is not true in either respect, but it is the last string to their bow and they are pulling hard on it. If it were true how did it happen that the Hon.
J. Z. Moore, an ex-confederate soldier, was appointed Register of Bankruptcy (which, by the way, is a very fat place, and was held by Mr. Moore quite a while). There are hundreds, ay, thousands of brave Federal soldiers in this the Republican party who are just as honorable and as well qualified in every respect as Mr. Moore but they were ignorant whom these Republican managers pretend to despise, was given the lucrative position. Federal soldiers will remember this.

THE PHYSICAL PARADOX.

It has been said that "blood is the source of life and death." Not so, but the blood of the body is the source of life and the body of the blood is the source of death.
Ohio county is fast taking an advanced position with regard to the quality of her tobacco. Sales were made last week of tobacco about Hartford and Beaver Dam that astonished me, bringing over $10 per hundred. They are now making a better grade and handling it in a better manner.

The enterprise exhibited by the Herald proprietor has repaid him well in the general improvement wrought in the county, and is worthy of imitation.
The newspaper can encourage enterprise, yet discovered. They are especially efficient in scrofulous diseases.

Rochester Races.

I wish to make a statement of the way matters stand in regard to the race which came off on the 4th, between Mr.
Finley and myself. We made an "up and up" race for $100 a side, to be run on the square, by Finley's horse Bogus Bill and the mare Anna Cox. After the race had been made, Howard Finley left Morgantown and crossed the river, going to Geo. Cox's and bridle him by agreeing to give him $10 to take the mare, Anna, to Rochester and had a ferry-boat taken up the river a half mile above town, crossed the river and put the mare in a tobacco barn to keep her from being beaten. Howard Finley had a large amount of work to do, consequently, the whole town was astir until the wee hours. About day-break two horses ran over the track, which can be proven by good, responsible citizens.
In fitting language he denounced the "Great Fraud" by which the people were cheated out of their choice in 1876, and the Presidential office given a million votes. He paid a handsome polls.

-A son of Sam K. Bishop, Esq., caught a cat-fish in Green river last Saturday that weighed 60 pounds.

-Spring Wagons and Buggies for sale, cheaper than anywhere else, at D. F. Tracy's.

-A nice lot of P. K.'s, and Vie. Lawns for sale cheap, at Anderson's Bazaar.

-If you want a nice little farm read the advertisement "Farm for Sale" and buy it.

-Stuttering cured by Bate's Appliances. Send for description to Simpson & Co., Box 2,236, New York.

-Thanks to Rev. W. G. Benton for a lot of Indian rocks and curiosities which have been added to our cabinet.

-Quite a number of people were present on Monday attending County Court, stock sales, public speaking &c.

-We were shown on Monday last, by Mr. W. G. Griffin, a necklace made of chinquapins, which he brought with him from Virginia.

-Mr. James Maddox left with us Monday a sample of his wheat, Tennessee Red variety, which is very fine and hard to beat.

-McKinley & King will have a big barbecue near Bell's Run church, Saturday, July 28th. For particulars see poster printed at the office.

-Anthony Malde, who was held for further trial as accessory in the Chinaman-Ferguson affair, gave bond last Saturday and was released from custody.

-Horse owners should read the following notice copied from the Scientific News regarding a new Horse Book which costs only 25 cents:

-Rev. E. D. Elliott, pastor of No Creek M. E. church, late of Madisonville, called at the HERALD office Monday. He was interested in looking over the HERALD museum.

-The Rosine steam mill was sold by the Master Commissioner last Monday, and bid in by Mr. H. D. McHenry. Mr. McHenry will not run the mill, but will sell it. Here is a good chance for a profitable investment.

-Voters in the Fordsville voting precinct, will please note the election notice of Sheriff Phillips and act accordingly. The vote is to determine whether or not license shall be granted to persons to retail intoxicating drinks in that precinct.

-We understand that Mr. R. P. Rowe has been appointed Post-master at this place, vice Judge C. J. Lawton, resigned. Mr. Rowe will take charge of the office as soon as the proper bond is filed and appraised. He will move the office to his furniture store next door to Hartford House.

-The most amusing thing we have witnessed lately was that of a young six-footer from one of the rural districts, after days since, walk up to the jewelry sign of W. H. Eidsom, which is a wooden cut of a watch, and pulling out his watch, set it to time 7:23 a. m. He remarked to himself upon leaving that he guessed he could tell the time now.

-We see from Sherry & Glover's weekly report of last week that leaf tobacco sold by them during the week brought from $5 00 up to $33 00 per hundred; and hogs from $2 00 to $5 00 per hundred. This is high enough to induce the raising of the weed, and yet, just as it goes up hundreds of farmers quit. To make money raising tobacco you must make it a regular business one year after another.

-The excursion to Paducah was a little too well patronized. W. R. Hodges is deservedly one of the most popular railroad conductors ever known in this or any other part of the world; and when it was learned that he had chartered the train his friends came in from every quarter. By the time Paducah was reached there were 1,100 passengers and about 500 left for want of room to carry them. There were no accidents, worthy of note and the day was enjoyed as well as could be expected under all the circumstances.

-One friend, Strother F. Banks, of Henderson, was married at Trenton, Wednesday week to Miss Joy Sebree. She may be a joy to him in reality as well as name. May the Banks in which she has deposited her young heart's warmth and truest love and affection, and upon the resources of which she leans for protection and care in the future and from which she has concluded to draw her supplies to sustain, comfort and support her, never protest again of any checks properly presented, but yield in return a full compensation for deposit, its interests, &c.

-Chinese Lectures.

W. G. Benton lectures at McHenry this week on Wednesday and Thursday nights, and at Cromwell on Friday, Saturday, July 28th. For particulars see poster printed at the office.

-James Maddox left with us Monday a sample of his wheat, Tennessee Red variety, which is very fine and hard to beat.

The Boss Cabbage.

Our neighbor, Judge Gregory, sent us on last Monday a cabbage of the Early Henderson variety, that measured more than three feet across the top. He has our thanks, for we are fond of cabbage.

I Want Those Bits.

On Sunday night a thief broke into the shop of L. W. Shaeffer, of this place, and took there from five anger bits. He took out a pane of glass from the window in order to effect an entrance and took it off too. Mr. Shaeffer's son is, "I want those bits," and the thief will catch him if he does not return the m.

The Thing was Loosed.

Wm. Henry Bratcher, a young man about 18 years old was at Ferguson's store, in the upper part of this county, last Friday with a pistol in his coat pocket. From some cause or other the pistol was loaded and went off, the ball striking the leg near the thigh, running down to or near the knee joint, and had not been extracted at last accounts. Those who dance must pay the fiddler, and those who carry pistols in their pockets contrary to law must now and then expect an accident similar to the above.

Words of Warning and Sensible Advice.

The sanitary condition of Hartford is really fearful, and unless it receives the immediate attention of the authorities we may expect to be visited by a scourge as terrible as that that depopulated Grenada, Miss., last fall. As we value the lives of those we love, let us cleanse our streets and alleys, our cellars, and back yards, and then if we would have our wives and daughters to look fresh and handsome, let us buy our goods at Anderson's Bazaar.

The Glorious Fourth.

The miners of M. Stanley's coal mines near Cromwell, quit on the 4th inst. to celebrate the glorious day of the birth of freedom in this land of ours. They went to Cromwell to the number of ten or a dozen and imbibed quite freely of freedom juice, and they soon got to trying their manhood on each other, resulting in about a half dozen fights. One man named Brown got his eyes badly bunged up.

A Woman in Jail.

Mrs. Julia Tichenor, of Rockport, for fighting with another woman was tried last Wednesday and fined $4 69. Failing to pay or replevy the fine she was brought to Hartford and lodged in jail. She was defended by Geo. C. Wedding, Esq., and in the absence of the County Attorneys, Messrs. A. Jones and C. Pendleton were appointed to prosecute. The young limbs of the law on both sides did their work well. Mrs. W. J. Berry and J. T. Miller are attending him.

Behind the cloud the sun is still shining, it's a great consoling thought to those having melancholy feelings. Such was the case with us last Monday morning, when our despondency was turned into mirth by the bewitching smiles and merry countenances of Misses Lula Walker and Jessie Shull. We conducted our fair enchantresses through the office and explained to them, as best we could, the complications, vexations and perplexities of newspaper life. We can assure the young ladies that their visit was appreciated.

Go to G. A. Platt's and get the good, old pure Magnolia Whisky at $1.40 a gallon, or 5 cents a drink

Fourth of July Soiree.

The Fourth of July was celebrated here Friday night by a party given by Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Gregory to the young ladies and gentlemen of town. The attendance was very large—embracing the beauty, and élite of town. About 11 o'clock the party was invited to the dining-room where a sumptuous repast, consisting of meats, coffee, tea, pickles, sherbet, ice-cream, cakes, &c., awaited them. So pleasant was the occasion and so quickly sped the hours that it was near the time when Aurora's peaty fingers lit the spangled veil of night.

Before they adjourned, in behalf of the young ladies and gentlemen, we tender Mr. and Mrs. Gregory thanks for an evening of unalloyed pleasure.

Election Notice.

An election will be held at Fordsville, Ohio county, on Monday, the 4th day of August, 1879, for the purpose of taking the sense of the voters in said district whether or not license shall be granted to persons to retail intoxicating drinks in that precinct.

We understand that Mr. R. P. Rowe has been appointed Post-master at this place, vice Judge C. J. Lawton, resigned. Mr. Rowe will take charge of the office as soon as the proper bond is filed and appraised. He will move the office to his furniture store next door to Hartford House.

Fine Stock.

Mr. Wm. Foster's fine two-year-old heifer, Fannie Foster, purchased by him of McFerrin, of Woodford county, last fall, dropped a fine bull last Saturday. This calf at weening time will be worth $50. Such men as Mr. Foster are a great help to a country, as they are all the time improving the breed of stock and quality of grain crops.

Amende Honorable.

In our last issue we made mention of judgement against the Sheriff of McLean county in the Franklin Circuit Court for $3,638.86. The item of news was clipped from one of our exchanges. We learn from Mr. White, himself, that the item was wrong, that he paid all the State held against him, as Sheriff, some time last month and is entirely square with the State. We are more than glad to make the correction. Mr. White is a man we esteem very highly and we knew if he was behind at all it was because of his kindness of heart in showing clemency to the oppressed taxpayers.

Farm For Sale.

I desire to sell my farm near No Creek church two miles from Hartford, containing 148 acres of land—100 acres under cultivation, a good dwelling house with four rooms, 2 barns, stable, crib, and out houses. All in good condition. The place is well watered. For further particulars apply to the editor of this paper, or call on or address the undersigned.

H. D. BENNETT,
P. O. Hartford.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. Anna Potts is visiting her sister, Mrs. James A. Thomas, of this place. Hon. H. D. McHenry and wife are visiting the Sulphur Springs, this country.

Old and Reliable.

Common sense rules the masses of the people. Get up a really good article, let it be interestingly demonstrated, and the world will not fail to notice it. Such is the case with Dr. Sanford's Liver Invigorator, prepared by a regular physician of thirty years' large practice, and tested by thousands all over the country, so that it has become a standard remedy for all diseases of the liver, and especially as it purifies the blood, cures the stomach, relieves neuralgia, dandruff, ague, etc. It produces no unpleasant feelings it does not affect the system in any way, and is as safe as any medicine.

Rockport, Ky., June 28, 1879.

Editor Herald.

The ladies of the Rockport Baptist church pleasantly surprised their pastor at their meeting by presenting him a beautiful new quilt; which, for quality of material, beauty of colors, and skillful arrangement in the same is seldom equaled. It is prized for its real value, and more for the appreciation it betokens of his labor for the Master in their community. May the hands that wrought so skillfully on it lead many to the path of salvation, and may the spirit of a pastor's comfort, find joy in often communing with God.

Were refreshed by a shower of rain last evening. Corn crops are promising in these parts. Wheat is being stacked. Oats are only middling good.

Tobacco Market.

Sales of tobacco at the Louisville Tobacco Warehouse for the week ending June 28th, 1879, 286 lbs., divided as follows:

209 lbs., leaf, at $12.00, 11.00, 10.75, 10.00, 9.25, 9.00, 9.00, 9.10, 9.50, 9.40, 9.80, 9.60, 8.80, 8.00, 8.30, 8.50, 8.20, 8.60, 8.10, 7.90, 7.70, 6.70, 6.50, 6.30, 5.90, 5.70, 5.50, 5.30, 5.10, 4.90, 4.70, 4.50, 4.30, 4.10, 4.00, 3.85, 3.70, 3.55, 3.50, 3.30, 3.10, 3.05, 3.85, 3.15, 2.80, 2.65, 2.55, 2.60.

Receipts this week 800 lbs. Sales this week 1,680 lbs. Since Jan. 1st, 27,485. Prices have advanced considerably this week and our market is much higher than at any time during the year. The recent advent being 50c to 75c on lugs, and 15c to 25c on leaf. It is to be regretted that the planting cannot be large, and we have a number of short-sop-spectators on our market this week. A good general ratio within a short time would improve prospects very much, and we see nothing at present to increase the advance, but of course a continuation of unfavorable weather would change the position. We are very anxious for the advance, were tobacco left to our discretion, because sellers have been making fair profits and we thought it well to take advantage of a certainty.

We are having some rain here to-day. Your friends, SHERIFF & GLOVER.

This may be an old story, but it's a good one, with two or three morals to each line. It is particularly recommended to a certain class of people: Several years ago a Western lawyer, however, a member of a large church, got drunk. The brethren said he must confess. He denigrated. He knew the members to be good people, but they had their faults, such as driving sharp bargains, swindling the laborer down to low wages, loaning money at illegal rates, misrepresenting articles they had for sale, etc. But they were good people, and passed the lawyer to come to the church. The lawyer confessed his sin of taking a glass too much, for they were temperance people and abhorred intemperance. The sinner finally went to the confession, found a large gathering of brethren and sisters, whose bowed heads rose, and whose eyes glistened with pure delight as the lawyer began. "I confess," he said, "that I never took a drink in my life." On that confession down went a brother's head with a groan. "I never turned a poor man from my door who needed food and shelter." Down went another head. "I confess that I never sold skim-milk cheese for a new one." Whenceupon a woman shrieked for mercy. "I confess that I have not been Pharisaical or sanctimonious, and have not sought to appear better than those who have not happened to agree with me," when down dropped numerous heads. "I confess that I have not played the hypocrite, and I do not lie, and that I have not used religion as a cloak," when down went several other heads, and among them the very ones who were so very anxious that he should confess. "But," continued the sinner, "I have been drunk and am very sorry for it." Whereupon the meeting quietly dispersed.

The P. & E. Railroad.

(Elizabethtown News.)

The P. & E. Road is in a fine condition. Last week we rode over the road as far as Princeton, and were surprised at the neatness and symmetry of the property. This road has one of the best arranged stock yards at Princeton we ever saw. Under the management of General Anderson, and such a roadmaster as Heywood, this road is bound to be popular and successful.

Strange Delusion.

Jefferson Stevens, who lives near Sulphur Springs, this county, is a man about 50 years old. He has recently concluded that he has peculiar powers. He takes a forked dog-wood switch like unto those used by water-wizards and takes a straight dog-wood switch in his mouth, and he claims by the aid of these to answer any question correctly. He tells the number of dollars of coin in the pockets of the questioner. He also has told where certain large sums of money are buried, and one of the owners of the land has agreed to give him half he finds; and as a proof of his belief in his power, he has gone to work to dig it out. If he finds the treasure we will certainly advise our readers of it.

IN MEMORIAM.

MARY S. HARRELL—Sweet is the sleep of those who sleep in Jesus. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord." Thursday morning, June 26th, we were made to know that our much esteemed friend, Miss Mary S. Harrell, had passed away. She had been confined to her bed nine days with Typhus fever. Part of the time she was delirious, but when "conscious" told her friends that she must go. She was taken from us in the "morn of her young womanhood." As a lady she was respected and esteemed by all who knew her. To the sick and infirm she ever gave a kind word and kindly spoke it. As a friend Mary was loved by all who were her associates. She led a life of simplicity, loneliness, innocence and nobility that characterizes a true woman. But her life of labor is now o'er, her God has taken her to His home. We have been told that in the future the world will find a kind word and kindly spoke it. As a friend Mary was loved by all who were her associates. She led a life of simplicity, loneliness, innocence and nobility that characterizes a true woman. But her life of labor is now o'er, her God has taken her to His home. We have been told that in the future the world will find a kind word and kindly spoke it. As a friend Mary was loved by all who were her associates. Mary was a member of the Baptist church. She was a niece of J. E. Harrel, a druggist of this place, with whom she had a congenital disease which was delivered by Rev. Alex. Reed, of the C. P. Church.

Weep not for Mary, God knows best, With her mother in Heaven she is at rest.

MORGANTOWN, Ky., June 30th 1879.

Motor's War-chops.

NEWCASTLE, Ky., July 1st, 1879.

Big rains, ground wet, wheat cutting the order of the day, people done planting tobacco, every person in a good humor and will vote for Hon. R. P. Hoek, in August, in spite of grass or any thing else that we eat with a seythe.

The good people of Newville vicinity will give a splendid barbecue, free of charge, on July 12th. All the candidates of Ohio, Daviess and McLean counties are respectfully invited to be present as Newville is a fractional town, lying in all of the above named counties, therefore all are expected. We have been favored with but few visits from our candidates, hence the barrenness. The editors of Hartford Herald and News are especially invited.

It is prized for its real value, and more for the appreciation it betokens of his labor for the Master in their community. May the hands that wrought so skillfully on it lead many to the path of salvation, and for a pastor's comfort, find joy in often communing with God.

Tobacco Market.

209 lbs., leaf, at $12.00, 11.00, 10.75, 10.00, 9.25, 9.00, 9.00, 9.10, 9.50, 9.40, 9.80, 9.60, 8.80, 8.00, 8.30, 8.50, 8.20, 8.60, 8.10, 7.90, 7.70, 6.70, 6.50, 6.30, 5.90, 5.70, 5.50, 5.30, 5.10, 4.90, 4.70, 4.50, 4.30, 4.10, 4.00, 3.85, 3.70, 3.55, 3.50, 3.30, 3.10, 3.05, 3.85, 3.15, 2.80, 2.65, 2.55, 2.60.

Receipts this week 800 lbs. Sales this week 1,680 lbs. Since Jan. 1st, 27,485. Prices have advanced considerably this week and our market is much higher than at any time during the year. The recent advent being 50c to 75c on lugs, and 15c to 25c on leaf. It is to be regretted that the planting cannot be large, and we have a number of short-sop-spectators on our market this week. A good general ratio within a short time would improve prospects very much, and we see nothing at present to increase the advance, but of course a continuation of unfavorable weather would change the position. We are very anxious for the advance, were tobacco left to our discretion, because sellers have been making fair profits and we thought it well to take advantage of a certainty.

We are having some rain here to-day.
